Caring for our community

As the region’s leading nonprofit healthcare provider, Inova offers the right care at the right time to keep our community healthy and strong, even in the midst of a global pandemic. By bringing world-class healthcare, education and wellness programming to area residents, regardless of their ability to pay, our community benefit services amount to hundreds of millions of dollars each year. Through subsidized health services, free or discounted charity care, clinical programs for low-income residents, and investments in medical education and cutting-edge research, Inova will continue to work to address health disparities and identify gaps to advance health for all. Inova’s commitment is twofold: to provide access to world-class healthcare services to make people healthy, and to provide education and services to help keep people healthy.
