Cardiac Rehabilitation

Your Key to Optimum Heart Health Through Education and Exercise

Inova Heart and Vascular Institute's Cardiac Rehabilitation program offers medically supervised exercise and education for adults with heart disease. Our cardiac rehabilitation program is a three-part program that begins in the hospital and continues on an outpatient basis. The program is offered at convenient locations throughout Northern Virginia.

Who Can Participate?

Anyone diagnosed with heart problems can participate. Heart problems may include heart attack (myocardial infarction), angina or heart failure. Anyone who has undergone coronary bypass surgery, heart transplant, heart valve repair or replacement, angioplasty, stenting, atherectomy, or other heart procedures can also participate.

Cardiac Rehabilitation

Inpatient Transition Care (formerly Phase I)

During hospitalization, a cardiac rehabilitation team member will meet with the patient and family to explain the cardiac rehabilitation program, its benefits and the enrollment process. During this visit, the team member is available to answer questions about heart disease and initial activity guidelines.

Secondary Prevention Program (formerly Phase II)

We will develop a personalized outpatient program for each patient, with a focus on monitored exercise and education. In this program, the patient will:

- Develop an increased understanding of the individual's condition and treatment
- Receive support and guidance needed to make important lifestyle changes that will decrease disease risk
- Improve cardiovascular conditioning for work and recreational activities

Cardiac Wellness Program (formerly Phase III)

This is a maintenance program for those who complete the secondary prevention program and want to continue with supervised exercise. It provides a supportive environment for a patients' continued wellness efforts.

What Are the Benefits of Cardiac Rehabilitation?

- Lower blood pressure
- Increased strength and endurance
- Decreased cholesterol levels
- Improved flexibility and balance
- Better diabetes management
- Improved circulation
- Improved weight control
- Better stress management

Your Healthcare Team

Inova Heart and Vascular Institute's team of experienced healthcare professionals — certified cardiopulmonary clinicians, dietitians, pharmacists, exercise physiologists, rehabilitation therapists, respiratory therapists and specially trained registered nurses — provide a complete and personalized heart-disease management program to enrolled participants. The team keeps your doctor informed of your progress through letters and phone calls.

Education

Inova Heart and Vascular Institute offers educational opportunities to patients enrolled in the cardiac rehabilitation program. Educational offerings vary by location. Lectures and seminars may include:

- Your Heart and How it Works
- Exercise and Your Heart
- Medication and Heart Health
- Heart-Healthy Eating Guidelines
- Stress Management

Fees and Insurance

Most insurance plans cover much of the cost of cardiac rehabilitation. However, the amount covered varies across insurance companies. Our team will verify your benefits and provide an estimate of your financial responsibility before you start our program.

How Can I Enroll?

If you are interested in learning more about our cardiac rehabilitation program, please call one of the locations listed. A physician's referral is required to enroll in the program. Our team will contact your physician to obtain your referral.
