Trauma Acute Care Surgery Externship
FAQ

About the Program

What is the trauma externship?
This program is designed to teach participants about the spectrum of trauma care. Participants observe pre-hospital care, patient arrival at the hospital, surgery, inpatient care, and rehabilitation. Externs learn about follow-up care and trauma survivor support groups. The trauma externship can prepare and educate pre-medical students who are interested in the surgical field.

When is the externship this year?
The 2020 Trauma Acute Care Surgery (ACS) Externship session will be Monday, June 1 – Friday, June 12, 2020. Hours can start as early as 6:30 a.m. but will vary based on your day’s activities (e.g. the day of the EMS ride-along, the shift may last until 9 p.m.)

Who should apply?
The trauma externship is designed for pre-medical students seeking a career in surgery. You must be 18 years old to participate. This program is not designed for students who have received a medical degree in another country, are in medical school or nursing school, or have completed medical school. The trauma externship does not lead to residency.

I live outside of the DC metro area; can I still apply?
The externship does not limit applicants based on their place of residence. However, participants are responsible for their own lodging, food, transportation, and other expenses. We do not maintain or provide a list of preferred providers.

Do I get credit for participating?
There is no clinical credit awarded for participation. The externship is not hands-on; it is strictly an observership. This program does not lead to residency.

Will I get paid for the externship?
No. This is an educational experience in which many medical professionals are donating their time and expertise in order to help participants learn more about the medical field and how it relates to trauma.

Where should I stay?
Most of the externship will be spent at Inova Fairfax Medical Campus so we suggest finding a nearby place to stay.

I don’t have a car. Is public transportation a good option for getting to and from the externship?
Externs who do not have personal transportation will have trouble getting to and from the off-site locations. This could make participation difficult.

Who Gets Accepted?

How many externs will be chosen?
We can only take 10 externs. There will be 2 alternates chosen. If one of the originally chosen externs cannot participate due to failure to submit documentation or for reasons beyond their control, one of the alternates will be offered the opportunity to participate.

Who chooses the externs?
Externs are selected by a multidisciplinary panel after careful review of each application packet.

How will I find out if I have been accepted?
Final decisions will be made by February 28, 2020. Decisions will be communicated by email. Please ensure your contact information is correct. If you are offered a spot in the externship but fail to communicate your acceptance by the identified deadline, your spot will be given to one of the alternates.

What happens if I get accepted?
If you are chosen for the externship, you will be notified of the required next-steps and their respective deadlines. If you are unable to complete these items in a timely manner, your space will be offered to one of the alternates.

I just found out about the externship and really want to participate but the deadline has passed. Can you find space for me to squeeze in?
We are not able to consider candidates after the deadline. We carefully select our externs through a rigorous and time-consuming vetting process. Please return to our webpage in the late fall to find out about the next year’s externship dates and deadlines.
