ICD-10 Online Lecture Series Now Available on HealthStream

Inova has teamed up with 3M Health Information Systems to offer an online ICD-10 lecture series that is designed to support physicians as they prepare to transition to the new coding system this fall. Available via the HealthStream online training and education site, the series begins with a 20-minute "ICD-10 Overview for Physicians" that provides basic information on the new coding system, specific coding requirements for physician billing and benefits.

After viewing the Overview, physicians may choose from any of 19 video modules for additional ICD-10 coding tips and information that is specialty based.

The online lecture series will be followed up with on-site instruction from 3M physicians at each of the Inova hospitals later this spring. Stay tuned for further information about dates and times.

Follow these instructions to access the ICD-10 lectures on HealthStream.
